

1. Results may vary at each application, regardless of the outcome achieved previously. This is due to the changes that occur in your skin during the healing process after each treatment and, sometimes the presence of scar tissue. Scar tissue yields a fibrous texture and therefore affects the skins ability to retain pigment.
2. How your body heals or retains the tattooed pigment is out of the control of the artist. This is 100% the job of your body, even when following the aftercare correctly there is a chance that pigment may not hold in the skin or last as long as expected. This is not the fault of the Artist.
3. Medical conditions and/or certain medications may prevent the pigment from retaining or cause it to fade quickly or change in colour.
4. Skin altering procedures such as plastic surgery, cosmeceutical treatments, and/or injections may alter and degrade the skin and affect how new pigment holds in the skin.
5. Previously tattooed skin may contain a build-up of pigment saturation which can affect the skins ability to retain new pigment. Discolouration of previous tattoos may affect the healed colour outcome.
6. Colour refresh and touch-up pricing is for existing clients only. A 4-6 week Touch up is strongly recommended to complete your Initial tattoo session, however, further additional adjustments are possible due to the nature of the individual's healing of the skin. These are priced separately (available on our website). Treatments are non-refundable.

I have read and agree to all of the above points. I have read the section detailing the risks associated with cosmetic tattooing procedures herewith the attached Confidential Client History Form and, I consent to proceed. I will follow the recommended after-care instructions as directed by my treating Artist.
